Today on the Eastern Caribbean Securities Market, 55 East Caribbean Financial Holding Company shares traded at $15.00 up two dollars or 15.38% since its previous market close.

Although there were bids and offers for other listed securities there were no other matches, and thus there were no other changes in the market prices of the securities trading on the ECSM.

And today's financial tip:

What is a bid offer spread?

This is the difference between the selling price and the purchase price for investments.

When a broker is asked what price the shares of a company is trading at in the market, he will quote two prices: the bid price is the price at which you can sell your shares, and the offer price is the price at which you can buy them. The first is always lower than the second, and the difference between them is the spread.
