And today's financial tip:

What is the significance of an investor Id number?

An investor Id number is assigned to every shareholder listed in the registry, to distinguish one shareholder from the next, especially if there is more than one shareholder with the same name. For example, if there are two John Jones in the registry system and one of them is requesting a change of address, if he does not indicate his investor Id number on the form the registry will not be able to process the request.
