And today's financial tip:

My husband recently died. How do I remove his name from our joint account at the Registry?

In a joint account situation where one of the holders is deceased, the surviving holder is now sole owner or beneficiary of the securities. The beneficiary holder is required to submit a completed notarised copy of the Notice on Death Joint Holder form to the registry, with notarised copies of the deceased death certificate and two pieces of any Government issued id for the beneficiary.
