And today's financial tip:

What is meant by account type and account status on the registry account statement?

Account type indicates whether the account is single or joint, that is if the account is owned by one individual or more than one individual. The account status, on the other hand, shows if the securities are clear for trading or are restricted in any form. For example, a security holder may have charged his securities to a bank for a loan granted. The restricted account status is a reminder to the security holder that the bank now owns his securities until he has cleared his debt.
